

THE COURANT CONFERENCE SERIES

H B F

Created for HBF by the design team of Lisa Bottom and John Duvivier, Courant offers a complete conference group that meets the changing technology needs of today and the future. A variety of cherry veneer table shapes are enhanced by three optional edge details: traditional, transitional and contemporary. Electrical access doors of cherry veneer or leather wrapped materials further enhance the customization opportunities.

02 | This Courant capsule shape table, shown with power/data access, features the traditional top edge and base moldings.

01 | A defining characteristic of Courant Conference tables is concealed power/data ports. This unit offers four electrical outlets and three knockout slots to allow the field installation of a wide variety of data connections.

03 | Courant round and square tables, with or without power, are adaptable for small or informal meeting areas.

04 | The Courant rectangular conference table features the traditional top edge and is shown without the power/data accessibility option. Available in a variety of sizes, the table is complemented by a conference chair from the HBF Willow Series.

06 | Wall mounted presentation cabinets are standard with white marker boards and pull down projection screen. Fabric covered tackboards are provided on the inside of each door.

05 | The Courant conferencing credenza and breakfront provide the necessary storage capabilities for the conference room. The back of both units are equipped with grommets for wire egress and ventilation while a power bar provides outlets and coaxial cable connections. These units are shown with the optional framed panel doors.

07 | Courant Conference credenzas are available with flat panel doors or framed panel doors. Black powder coat Granville pulls provide a more transitional aesthetic.
